Mrs. Margaret Sanger, Advocate of Birth Control, Flays British

By CHESTER D. BAHN, International News Service Staff Cor. respondent,

Reports from the legislative committee on matters proposed for introduction at the next session of the General Assembly and other important business will be considered. The pharmacists will be considered. The pharmacists will hear Curtis P. Gladding, of Hartford, former state president and now president of the national association as one feature of the gathering.

Joseph D. Hartgan is chairman of the committee of arrangements for the convention; William P. Hindle is chairman of the banquet committee and K. O. Damtoft is chairman of the reception committee.

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 30.—"Women have claimed and won equality with men before the law. They should grant men the same privilege of breaking the engagement that they want in the way Mrs. Margaret Stanger, birth control advocate, an. wered Marjorie Bowen, famous British novelist, who recently declared that men should be required to keep marriage engagements and women should retain the right, under law, to sue for breach of promise dam.

Greenwich, Dec. 30.—(I. N. S.)—
Word has been received here of the arrest at Del Cornado, Calif., of William Schulman, of New York, who is wanted here for check raising. Schulman was arrested in the West when he tried to get $100 from a hotel by signing a check of the Cos Cob Coal Co.

Schulman has been sought here ever since he raised a $15 check to $15,000 and offered it in payment for half interest in the Cos Cob Coal Co., representing himself then as an agent for the national Coal Co. He is said to have secured $1,110 here before he left suddenly with Joseph for h can Association for Advancement of Science at Cambridge.

A JUPITERIAN Boston, Dec. 30 .- (L. N. S.) - If Boston, Dec. 30.—(I. N. S.) — If there is life on the planet Jupiter the Jupiterians would not be worried by the present little cold snap in New England because their normal temperature is 130 degrees below zero, it was revealed yesterday by Prof. Donald N. Menzel, of Princeton University at the meeting of the American Association for Advancement of Science at Cambridge.

Prof. Menzel told of a delicate appliance used at Lowell Observatory for testing the atmosphere of the planets. It is so finely balanced it registers the heat of a tallow candle three miles off.

It was found that the temperature of Mars was about the same as this earth while Venus is much warmer. The temperature of Saturn hovers under zero all the time. Jupiter and Saturn have an internal source of energy. If they were warmed by the sun the distance is such that they would have a temperature of 250 degrees below zero.

What the King Said a Hundred Years Ago

London, Dec. 30.—The pomp and ceremony attending the opening of Parliament probably attracts more attention in the House of Lords than do the words of the King's speech, but the last address from George V, delivered a few days ago, contained no interpolation such as was once made in a speech from the throne by George IV.

IV.

It is asserted that when he was regent, George IV, made a bet with Richard Sheridan, the dramatist, that so little attention would be paid to the reading of his speech that he could interpolate any nonsense he liked without anyone showing surprise.

The bet was accepted. The Regent paused in the course of the address and said distinctly "Baa, baa, black sheep", and then went on No one took notice of the strange words. Chagrined at the loss of his wager. Sheridan asked George Canning, the Premier, if he had notized anything strange.

"Oh yes" said Canning "I heard the Prince say "Baa, baa black sheep" but as he was looking straight at you at the time, I took it for a persona allusion."
